Story 021

Two men were hiking in the mountains. One of them suddenly stopped, removed his hiking boots, and started putting on running shoes. The other asked why he was doing that.

The first hiker answered, "I heard a bear."

The second argued, "Well, bears can go really fast and you won't be able to outrun it, not even with running shoes."

The first responded, "I know. I just need to outrun YOU!"

Story 022

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson went on a camping trip. After a barbecue and some wine, they went to sleep. A few hours later, Holmes got up and woke up his friend.

"Watson, look up at the sky and tell me what you see."

Watson replied, "I see millions and millions of stars."

"What does that tell you?" asked Holmes.

Watson thought for a minute and answered, "Astronomically, it tells me that there are millions of galaxies and potentially billions of planets. Astrologically, I observe that Saturn is in Leo. Horologically, I can see that the time is approximately a quarter past three. What does it tell you?"

"Watson, you fool, someone has stolen our tent!"
