Story 033

During a job interview, the employer said to an applicant, “In this job we need someone who is responsible.”

The applicant replied, “Well, then I’m the one you want! On my last job, every time something went wrong, they told me I was responsible.”

Story 034

A tax agent was questioning the owner of a small New York sandwich deli about his tax return. The owner had reported a net profit of $80,000 for the year.

“Why don’t you people leave me alone?” the deli owner said, “I work like a dog, everyone in my family helps out and my store is only closed five days a year. And you want to know how I made $80,000?”

“It’s not your income that bothers us,” the agent said, “It’s these travel deductions. You listed six trips to California for you and your wife.”

“Oh, that,” the owner said smiling.

“It’s a business expense; we deliver!”
