

English Zone

English Zone Podcast

EZ Joke File

Story 037

A man was walking down a country lane and saw a young farmer sweating and struggling to load stacks of hay back onto his cart after they had fallen off.

The man felt sorry for the farmer and said, “You look tired. Why don’t you rest for a while and I’ll give you a hand?”

“No thanks,” replied the farmer, “my father wouldn’t like it.”

“Come on,” the man said, “everyone deserves a break. Have a drink of water.” But again, the farmer said that his father would be upset.

Frustrated, the man said, “Your father must be a real slave driver. Tell me where I can find him and I’ll give him a piece of my mind!”

“Well,” replied the young farmer, “he’s under this load of hay.”

Story 038

A blackjack player with a 14 count in her hand was arguing with the dealer about whether she should tip him.

She said, “When I get bad cards, it’s not the dealer’s fault. Also, when I get good cards, the dealer had nothing to do with it. So why should I tip you?”

The dealer replied, “You tip the waiter when you go to a restaurant, right? He serves you food and I’m serving you cards. You should tip me because I serve you, too.”

She said, “OK, but the waiter gives me what I ask for. I’ll take a seven.”